

Assistant Professor of Mathematics or Statistics. The University of South Carolina Sumter is seeking a full-time, tenure track Assistant Professor to teach undergraduate courses in mathematics and/or statistics beginning August 16, 2019 or January 1, 2020. An earned doctorate in Mathematics, Mathematics Education or Statistics at time of appointment is required by the beginning date of employment.

The successful candidate will have at least 9 months of experience teaching introductory undergraduate courses in mathematics and/or statistics classes (such as College Algebra, Business Calculus, Calculus, and Elementary Statistics), effective communication skills, willingness to work with diverse populations, a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in traditional, distance, and online learning environments, and the ability to maintain a healthy level of professional activity in scholarship and service. The teaching load is twelve credit hours per semester, primarily of freshmen- or sophomore-level courses, with the opportunity for release time for scholarship. Student advising and participation on campus committees are expected.

USC Sumter is part of USC's Palmetto College (<http://www.sc.edu/palmettocollege/>), which involves offering some four-year degrees through multiple forms of course delivery and learning, such as two-way video delivery (videoconferencing) and online learning (Blackboard or similar course management system).

Review of credentials will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. The University of South Carolina requires individuals to apply online for all job vacancies. You may access the USC Jobs site at <http://uscjobs.sc.edu>. An application letter (including a description of teaching philosophy and professional goals and interests), curriculum vita, three current letters of recommendation, copies of all undergraduate and graduate transcripts, and summaries of teaching evaluations or other evidence of excellence in teaching must be attached to the online application. If you have any questions about the application procedures, please contact Dr. Rebecca Hillman, Division of Science, Mathematics, and Engineering, at hillmanr@uscsumter.edu. USC Sumter is an AA/EOE.
