- TI-83/84 Calculator (or other calculator with statistical functions) (Required): Learning to use a calculator to complete basic statistical functions will fulfill the Liberal Studies Technology Requirement. Please bring your calculator to every class. Cell phones are not an acceptable calculator for quizzes or exams.
- Canvas: Please check the Canvas site regularly for announcements, notes, and current grades. Note it is your responsibility to ensure that your grades are inputted correctly into Canvas. - Course Topic: The course covers Normal distributions, sampling variation, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, one-way and two-way analysis of variance, correlation, simple and multiple regression, contingency tables and chi-square tests, non-parametric statistics.
- Course Purpose: The purpose of this course is to prepare students for further study and job preparation in the field of Natural Sciences. It will emphasize understanding of data and interpretation of statistical analyses. It will require students to think of data, and report the results of their analyses, in context.

- Important dates:

- Classes begin January 6th and end April 24th. (15 weeks + Spring break).
- No classes on MLK Jr Day, Jan 20th.
- Spring break is March 16th- 20th.
- Last day to drop a course without receiving a grade is February 21st.

2 Grading

2.1 Grading Scale

Grade cutoffs will be established at the end of the course, but will not be more strict than the following cutoffs.

[90,93)	A-	[93,100]	A
[80,83)	B-	[83,87)	B	[87,90)	B+
[70,73)	C-	[73,77)	C	[77,80)	C+
[60,63)	D-	[63,67)	D	[67,70)	D+
[0,60)	F

2.2 Grading Components

- Quizzes(55%): There will be quizzes every week. I will show you how to solve a similar example the previous week. Each quiz will be equally graded. The highest 7 grades will be considered. Extra credits may be earned.
- Attendance(5%): Students earn 1% for each time they are present in an attendance check. Students need to be present for 5 random attendance checks to receive full credit. There would be more than 5 attendance checks through the term.
- LSQA(10%)
- Final Exam(30%): Final exam will be given on April, 28th, 12:30-2:30 pm. Generally, it will cover all the knowledge in the class. Coverage will be posted in the future. Students may bring in two note sheets. Extra credits may be earned.
- Bonus(5%)
- Your final grade will be at least your final exam grade.

2.3 Grade appeal policy

- Assessments that are not taken, and assignments that are not submitted, will receive a grade of zero. When a missed assessment/assignment is made up, the zero will be replaced with the earned grade.
- Students have questions about the quiz grade or LSQA should inform instructor within 3 days after grades are posted online. If students do not contact instructor about grade within 3 days, the grade will be final and would not change.

3 Attendance Policy and Make-ups

- First day attendance policy and Attendance Expectations: "The University requires attendance on the first day of class. Being absent on the first day without first alerting me as the instructor will result in you being dropped from the class."
- Missed Attendance Checks: Student who cannot attend the class when attendance check happens, tell me before or within 24 hours after the class with acceptable document. Excused absences include documented illness, deaths in the family, documented crises, jury duty, religious holy days, and official University activities. Other situations will be considered on a case-by-case basis.
- Missed quizzes: There will be no makeup quizzes for any reason.
- The last day of class is absolute deadline for contact and document submission barring the final exam.

4 Course Objectives

This course has been approved to meet FSU's Liberal Studies Quantitative and Logical Thinking requirements and is designed to help you become a critical analyst of quantitative and logical claims. In order to fulfill the State of Florida's College mathematics and computation requirement the student must earn a "C-" or better in the course. By the end of the course, students will demonstrate the ability to:

- Select and apply appropriate methods (i.e., mathematical, statistical, logical, and/or computational models or principles) to solve real-world problems.
- Use a variety of forms to represent problems and their solutions.
- Use descriptive statistics and graphical methods to summarize data accurately.
- Use inferential statistics to make valid judgments based on the data available.
- Select the appropriate statistical tools to analyze a particular problem.
- Describe the goals of various statistical methodologies conceptually.
- Develop a healthy skepticism toward statistical studies and their results based on a sensible consideration of the techniques employed

6 Religious holidays

Students shall, upon notifying their instructor within the first two weeks of the semester, be excused from class to observe a religious work-restricted holy day of their faith. Students should submit a self-written-and-signed letter at least one week before the holiday informing me that they will be absent due to the religious holiday. Face-to-face communication is not accepted.

7 Classroom Policies and Expectations

As was stated in the attendance policy section, it is important to come to class and to arrive on time. Attendance checks will generally be taken in the last minute of class. All of the necessary material for quizzes and exam will be touched on in lecture, and students are expected and strongly encouraged to use the notes provided on blackboard during lecture. Purposeful disruptions in class, such as having audible conversations with friends, distracting or disruptive actions, obvious and continual use of cell phone (i.e. texting with phone well in view for much of the class period), rude or disrespectful behavior, etc. may result in being asked to leave class or losing credit for a future or previous attendance check. Students who make a pattern of coming to class late may also lose attendance credit.

8 Syllabus Change Policy

Except for changes that substantially affect implementation of the evaluation (grading) statement, this syllabus is a guide for the course and is subject to change with advance notice.

9 Sexual Misconduct and Title IX Reporting

As an instructor, I am obliged to report all instances of sexual misconduct that I become aware of; I cannot hold such information confidential. If you would like to discuss your situation in confidence, you may contact the Victim Advocate Program (<https://dos.fsu.edu/vap/>), the University Counseling Center (<https://counseling.fsu.edu/>), the Employee Assistance Program (<https://eap.fsu.edu/>), or University Health Services (<https://uhs.fsu.edu/>).

10 Final Exam Rescheduling Policy

You may not take the final exam before final exams week. Individual students who need to reschedule the final exam for a different time during final exams week will need to talk to me about it first and get my permission to reschedule, fill out the "Request to Reschedule Final Examination" form at <https://artsandsciences.fsu.edu/students/undergraduate/forms-requiring-deans-approval/rescheduling-final-examination> and take it to the Dean of Arts and Sciences office at 010 LON to get it approved, and bring the approved form back to me by the last day of classes.

If you experience a documented emergency that prevents you from observing the above deadline, contact me as soon as you are able to, and we'll take it from there.

11 University Attendance Policy

Excused absences include documented illness, deaths in the family and other documented crises, call to active military duty or jury duty, religious holy days, and official University activities. These absences will be accommodated in a way that does not arbitrarily penalize students who have a valid excuse. Consideration will also be given to students whose dependent children experience serious illness.

12 Academic Honor Policy

The Florida State University Academic Honor Policy outlines the University's expectations for the integrity of students' academic work, the procedures for resolving alleged violations of those expectations, and the rights and responsibilities of students and faculty members throughout the process. Students are responsible for reading the Academic Honor Policy and for living up to their pledge to "...be honest and truthful and...[to] strive for personal and institutional integrity at Florida State University." (Florida State University Academic Honor Policy, found at <http://fda.fsu.edu/academic-resources/academic-integrity-and-grievances/academic-honor-policy>.)

13 Americans With Disabilities Act

Students with disabilities needing academic accommodation should: (1) register with and provide documentation to the Student Disability Resource Center; and (2) bring a letter to the instructor indicating the need for accommodation and what type. Please note that instructors are not allowed to provide classroom accommodation to a student until appropriate verification from the Student Disability Resource Center has been provided.
