Course Description

This course covers statistical applications in business, involving graphical and numerical descriptions of data, data collection, correlation and simple linear regression, elementary probability, random variables, Binomial and Normal distributions, sampling distributions, and confidence intervals and hypothesis tests for a single sample.

The purpose of this course is to prepare students for further study and job preparation in the field of Business. It will emphasize understanding of data and interpretation of statistical analyses. It will require students to think of data, and report the results of their analyses, in context.

Learning Objectives

This course has been approved to meet FSU's Liberal Studies Quantitative and Logical Thinking requirements and helps you become a critical analyst of quantitative and logical claims.

In order to fulfill the State of Florida's College mathematics and computation requirement the student must earn a "C–" or better in the course.

By the end of the course, students will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Select and apply appropriate methods (i.e., mathematical, statistical, logical, and/or computational models or principles) to solve real-world problems.
2. Use a variety of forms to represent problems and their solutions.

The above two competencies will be assessed in the Liberal Studies Quantitative Assessment (LSQA) which includes a written summary of results. The LSQA forms a mandatory ten percent of the course grade. If you do not take it, you will not be permitted to pass the class, regardless of how well you perform on the other assessments. The LSQA will be an online assessment graded for accuracy; two attempts will be allowed; collaboration is not permitted; no internet sources are allowed apart from the course Canvas.

3. Use descriptive statistics and graphical methods to summarize data accurately.
4. Use inferential statistics to make valid judgments based on the data available.
5. Describe the goals of various statistical methodologies conceptually.
6. Apply statistical techniques in the context of business processes, everyday life, and further studies in their discipline.
7. Develop a healthy skepticism toward statistical studies and their results based on a sensible consideration of the techniques employed.

Required Materials

- A personal computer, reliable internet connection, and Chrome or Firefox browser.
- A TI-84 Plus or equivalent calculator. We will teach you how to use a TI-84 series calculator, but we cannot promise to be able to help with any other type of calculator.

A textbook is not required for this class. The instructor will provide all required course notes and exercises. Please note that the materials provided by the instructor were put together for your individual use only. While you may share these materials with classmates, we ask that you do not share them with third parties who are not enrolled in this class. If you seek help outside of class, you may allow your helper to see the materials, but please do not allow them to make copies or in any other way take our material. We appreciate your cooperation in protecting our material. Thank you!

Additional Resource

The following free online textbook is an additional resource that you might find useful: Introductory Statistics from OpenStax, Print ISBN 1938168208, Digital ISBN 1947172050, www.openstax.org/details/introductory-statistics.

Note on Technology-dependent Assessments

This course is technology-dependent. While we will do our best to work with you on technology issues, please be aware that if you take an assessment but we can find absolutely no record of the fact, then we will not be able to give you credit for it. Please do not use Safari when you take assessments on Canvas, please use Chrome or Firefox.

Completing assessments in a timely manner so that you can stay on track

This is a semester-long college course, designed to be taken one step at a time throughout the semester rather than hurriedly over the span of a few days, or a few weeks. We will therefore not allow extensions on due dates during the last two weeks of classes unless you have completed at least eighty percent of the assessments given up to that point, including the LSQA. For example, if the LSQA and nine other assessments have been given by the start of the last two weeks of classes, then you will need to have completed the LSQA and at least seven other assessments in order to receive any extensions on due dates during the last two weeks of classes. Please note that the assessments need to be completed in order. Therefore, an extension on a specific assessment will not be granted if you have prior outstanding assessments. For example, if you request an extension on Assessment 8 but you did not complete Assessment 3, then you will be denied an extension on Assessment 8 but you may receive an extension on Assessment 3. The last day of classes will be the deadline for all assessment submissions, including assessments where extensions were granted, but not including the final assessment.

Grades

Assessments that are not completed will receive a grade of zero. When a makeup is completed, the zero will be replaced with the earned grade. If you believe that the grade you received on an assessment is incorrect, please bring it to my attention within two work days after the grade has been made available to you. If no issues are raised during that time frame, then it will be assumed that the grade is accepted and subsequent requests for a grade review may not be granted.

Grade structure

LSQA: 10%

- It stands for Liberal Studies Quantitative Assessment.
- Will be tentatively open from Mar 3 to Mar 5 on Canvas (specific time of the day will be announced).

- A TI-84 Plus or equivalent calculator is required for LSQA.

Open Quiz (Online on Canvas): 25%

- Collaboration is allowed and unlimited attempts are allowed for each quiz.
- The Confidence Interval open quiz and the Hypothesis Testing open quiz cannot be dropped.
- Of the other open quizzes, the lowest two percentage grades will be dropped.
- Each OQ (not including the final open quiz) will be due Saturday 11:59pm.

Exam: 65%

Tentative schedule:

Attendance (extra credit): 5%

- Will be randomly taken 10 times over the course.
- Students should come to class on time and stay for the entire period for credit.

Grading scale (percent)

Your letter grade will be selected from the grading scale below after rounding your overall numerical course grade up to the next higher whole number.

A = [93, 105]%	B+ = [87, 90)%	C+ = [77, 80)%	D+ = [67, 70)%	F = [0, 60)%
A- = [90, 93)%	B = [83, 87)%	C = [73, 77)%	D = [63, 67)%
	B- = [80, 83)%	C- = [70, 73)%	D- = [60, 63)%

A request for a grade of “Incomplete” will

- ~ not be granted if you have completed the coursework, including the assessments that cannot be dropped and excluding the drops and allowable absences.
- ~ be granted only if both of the following conditions are satisfied:
 - (1) the only assessment that you have yet to take is the final assessment, and
 - (2) your overall average excluding the final assessment is a passing grade (70% or above).

Final Exam Rescheduling Policy

You may not take the final exam before final exams week. Individual students who need to reschedule the final exam for a different time during final exams week should talk to me about it first to get my approval and then fill out and follow the instructions on the “Request to Reschedule a Final Examination” form at https://artsandsciences.fsu.edu/sites/g/files/upcbnu321/files/2022-01/Request_to_Reschedule_01032022.pdf.

The form needs to be submitted to the College of Arts and Sciences before 5pm on the last day of classes.

If you experience a documented emergency that prevents you from observing the above deadline, contact me as soon as you are able to, and we'll take it from there.

University Attendance Policy

Excused absences include documented illness, deaths in the family and other documented crises, call to active military duty or jury duty, religious holy days, and official University activities. These absences will be accommodated in a way that does not arbitrarily penalize students who have a valid excuse. Consideration will also be given to students whose dependent children experience serious illness.

Drop and Withdrawal deadlines are given in the University’s Academic Calendar at <https://registrar.fsu.edu/calendar/>.

If you are absent for an extended period of time and/or you do not respond to emails from the instructor over an extended period of time, the instructor reserves the right to deny access to assessments or limit the number of allowed attempts until attendance and/or contact is resumed.

The Florida State University Academic Honor Policy outlines the University's expectations for the integrity of students' academic work, the procedures for resolving alleged violations of those expectations, and the rights and responsibilities of students and faculty members throughout the process. Except for changes that substantially affect implementation of the evaluation (grading) statement, this syllabus is a guide for the course and is subject to change with advance notice.

Classes Subject to HB233 Recording

In this class, consistent with state law and university policy, students are permitted to make recordings of class lectures for personal use only. As noted, sharing, posting, or publishing classroom recordings may subject you to honor code violations and legal penalties associated with theft of intellectual property and violations of other state law. Moreover, students and educators have expressed concern that recording classroom activities may negatively impact the learning experience for others, especially in classes that involve questions, discussion, or participation. To protect a learning environment in which everyone feels free to experiment with ideas, we ask you refrain from recording in ways that could make others feel reluctant to ask questions, explore new ideas, or otherwise participate in class. Students must monitor their recording so that they do not include participation by other students without permission. Students with disabilities will continue to have appropriate accommodations for recordings as established by the Office of Accessibility Services.
